

Cyprus Zoo of the Future

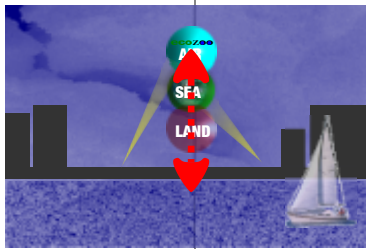

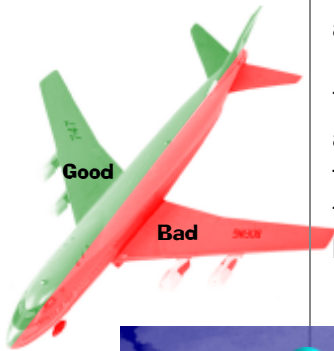

WSPA

Client contact
Victor Watkins
Wildlife Director
WSPA
14th Floor
89 Albert Embankment
London SE1 7TP
victorwatkins@wspa.org.uk

- An Exhibition Plus and Ash Sekula Architects project
- A design and production supervision contract, value £8 Million

Limassol's Eco-Zoo is a unique and innovative natural history experience. It will be the world's first animal-free zoo and have live links to wildlife projects through-out Cyprus and the world. This stunning new park will enable visitors to enjoy and learn about the need for the protection of wildlife and the environment. It will be an important orientation centre encouraging visitors to explore the flora and fauna of island Cyprus and island Earth.

The main theme of the zoo will be that no animals need to be held captive to learn about their world, and there will also be a focus on threats and problems wild animals face because of man's activities. A visit will leave the visitor with a renewed interest in the natural world and feel empowered to play a more active role in respecting and living with wildlife.

Take flight and come face to face with all things that fly and their environment.

Explore a variety of terrestrial animals.

Dive into its depths and meet its inhabitants

