- An Exhibition Plus project designed by Mark Magidson
- A design and production supervision contract, value £1.3 Million.
- 1200 square metres.
- Natural History Museum collaboration.

A major permanent exhibition designed for the children of Egypt. The child's journey starts with an exhibition passport. Each child is incorporated into the introductory video wall, after which they go on a journey through Ancient Egypt, the Nile, the Deserts and finally the Red Sea.

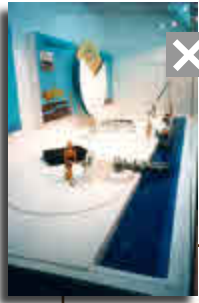

Visitors get their image incorporated into the show.

Kids are able to take a passport around the exhibition and stamp their progress

The Nile

If the Nile was made into a straight line where would it reach (Toronto)

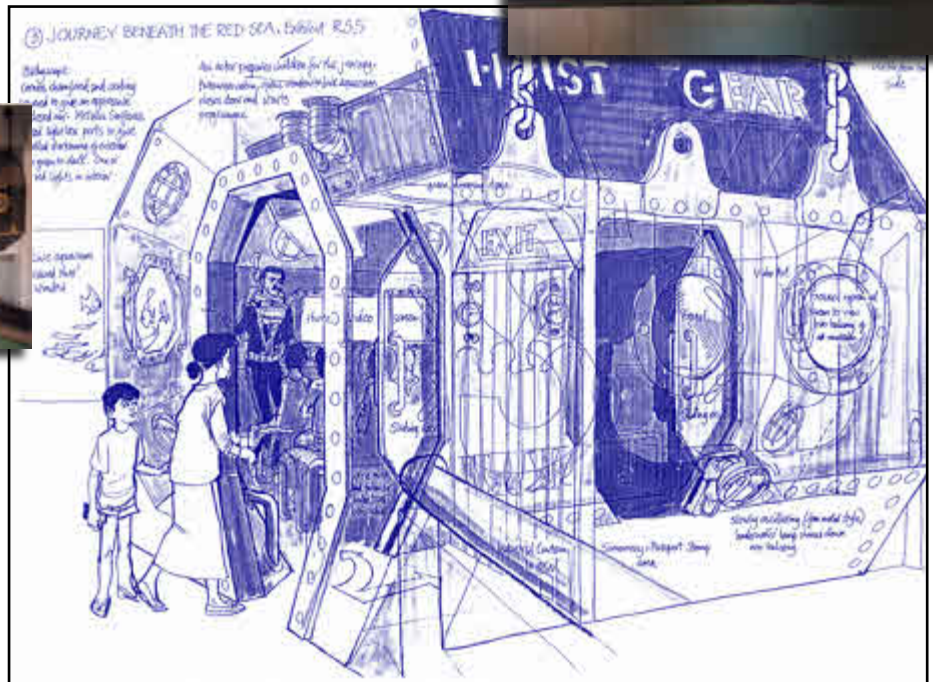

Use ancient tools

Make your own sand dune.

Select which poisonous desert animal you will be stung by!

The Red Sea Dive - wonders on the way down, then an emergency and man's negative impact on the way up.
