- An Exhibition Plus/Perks Willis project
- HLF lottery funded
- Interpretation and Learning design
- A design and build contract £600,000

Working with the local authority client, we have produced an entire new interpretation and learning plan for this 800 year old site.

Included in the interpretation is the Big Show introduction, a range of lenticular graphics panels (they contain up to 6 visuals that change as the viewpoints moves) and newly developed audio visual device that tracks the actual 360 degree movement of the visitor and gives interactive feedback.

GuidA Rotate - A new way of interpreting a space

An example of how the lenticular graphics will change. Smaller versions of these lenticulars will be on sale in the shop.
