- An Exhibition Plus project designed by Mark Magidson
- A design/production supervision contract, value £50K
- 250 square metres
- Working on 3 new national Parks in Tunisia

We were contracted as consultants to design and install a new exhibition in the visitor centre of Lake Ichkeul, one of three new parks being developed in Tunisia. The Natural History Museum in London acted as content consultants.

After its successful completion, we then designed two further ones, in the mountains of Chambi and the desert region of Bou Hedma. With these we developed a design package and trained the local workforce to construct these themselves.

A design package including these models, enabled a local Tunisian workforce to build these visitor centres themselves

1. Lake Ichkeul

All graphics and models were built in the UK and installed by us on site. We produced the above model and drawings as a working tool for local ministry contractors to build.

2. Chambi

3. Bou Hedma
